To get the best possible experience, it is recommended to use Google Chrome. Other browsers may not be able to download files..Q: How to test a content provider that is in a service class? I have a ContentProvider that contains a remote function "fetch" that return a list of records, it is in a ContentProviderService class. In the other activity I only use this provider through a contentResolver. How can I test this function without using a DB? I was thinking about stubs in RoboELEMENT or something like that, but i dont know where to start. A: I don't think stubs are the way to go for this. For such tests, just return a fake list of stuff. It is not a bad idea to make a basic test and use that as a reference while developing this part of the app. After you are done, you can write some more complex tests. Q: Can this be prevented? I'm having this issue. Whenever I exit the game (or tab out of it) my Hearthstone profile and all the achievements I've earned get deleted. If I start it up again the next day it starts from scratch. Is there any way to prevent this? A: You should be able to stop this by following the steps below: Open your Hearthstone library. Open the achievement manager. Find your account in the list. Right-click on the account. Go to "Edit Profile." More information can be found on this Blizzard support page his 10th ODI century and he had to open the innings with a six. Mahela Jayawardene won the man of the match award for his terrific showing in that game and he was subsequently selected as the second star of the game. His analysis of the win was "Everytime he comes to the crease the first thing he does is show us his strength". His second century came in the final match of the series against Sri Lanka in Colombo. Jayawardene scored 149 and had two catches in Sri Lanka's win. 2012 World Twenty20 In the 2012 World Twenty20, Jayawardene started the tournament with an unbeaten first fifty against Australia in the quarter-final, but he went on to score just one run in the third-place play-off against the West Indies.
